Repost is will be short and sweet. The demo eq did with the DEQX. Is amazing. Without the eq and room correction the Gallos sound compressed into the speakers and not convincing at all. With the eq engaged it is absolutely phenomenal. Deep soundstage and much more focus. Not to mention the greater dynamics, and better too to bottom sound quality.

We switched speakers now and are listening to the Legend Tikandis. These speakers are fully active. Awesome! Deep soundfield and much better everything [than the EQed Gallos]. Tremendous!!!!

Tyson [added later]: Pez secretly thinks the DEQX guys sabotaged the non-corrected Gallo's to make the corrected demo more impressive. I think he's full of sh!t. But I'm a former DEQX owner so I'm clearly biased 🤪

Seriously though, the switch between corrected passive Gallos and non-corrected passive gallos was incredibly obvious to everyone in the room except for the deaf 70 year old dude hogging the sweet spot. He actually said he could not hear the difference. I think he needs a different hobby!

And the difference between the passive Gallo's and the fully active Tikandi speakers? Gallos not even in the same ball park [as the Tikandis].
